BEAUTY

Beauty is not merely observed; it's felt. It manifests as elegance amidst the fury of high winds, as boldness in moments of risk, or as grace in persevering with a smile when strength fails. We don't know much about beauty, but we understand it streches beyond the skin. It resonates in the roar of an engine or in the delicate precision of a butterfly alighting on a finger.

While beauty remains elusive, we embrace the journey. Fastening the seatbelt, igniting the engine, we drive forward, aware that regardless of the path taken, beauty is all around us.
